Hebrews 9:27-28 (Ken Weliever)

Cal Thomas related in a recent post about watching BBC and the Sky News coverage of Queen Elizabeth's death. Thomas admitted he was surprised by two things.

"The first is that so many people interviewed were shocked at the Queen's death."

"Why should they be shocked?" Thomas wondered. "She was 96 years old and in failing health."

The second thing that surprised the conservative columnist was that none of the male or female clergy who were interviewed spoke of eternal life. None spoke of Jesus. And all they talked about, Thomas wrote, were "temporal things, including the beauty of the building in which she would lie in state."

Those observations call attention to this important passage and its sobering message.

"And as it is appointed for men to die once, but after this the judgment, so Christ was offered once to bear the sins of many. To those who eagerly wait for Him, He will appear a second time, apart from sin, for salvation" (Hebrews 9:27-28).

In recent days and weeks, we have learned of friends and brethren who died. One was a college classmate and teammate of mine on the Florida College basketball team. He was my age. Another was a lady we've known from our trips to the church at Cosby, Tennessee. Just last night, I received a message that a brother from the Hickman Mills church in Kansas City, who was over 90, had passed from this life.

Though none of these three have any claim to fame or will receive national notoriety for their life and death, they share the same end as the Queen of England. The Preacher in the book of Ecclesiastes observed that all flesh returns to the dust of the earth. The rich. The poor. Royalty. And common folks. Even the animals. Eventually, all die.

So, our passage reminds us of these simple truths.

(1) Everyone has an appointment with death. Death is a reality of life. None can escape it. Your money will not delay it. Your position will not stop it. Your good works will not circumvent it. It is a divine appointment all will keep. Sooner or later.

(2) The time of the appointment is unknown. The Psalmist offers this insight. “The length of our days is seventy years — or eighty, if we have the strength; yet their span is but trouble and sorrow, for they quickly pass, and we fly away (Psalm 90:10).

We know from experience that not everyone makes it to 70. Or 80. An accident may untimely take the life of a teenager. A 40-year-old can contract cancer. An unknown birth defect may be detected too late. And, as we have sadly seen in recent years, an evil person armed with a gun can snuff out the lives of innocent children. The specter of death is ever real. But its time is unknown.

#3 Death is not the end. This passage, as well as many others, reminds us that this life is not all there is. Following death will come the judgment. Paul reminds us that we must “all appear before the judgment seat of Christ (2 Corinthians 5:10). And that “each of us will give an account of himself to God” (Romans 14:12).

The book of Revelation pictures the judgment with these symbolic words. “Then I saw a great white throne and him who was seated on it. Earth and sky fled from his presence, and there was no place for them. And I saw the dead, great and small, standing before the throne, and books were opened. Another book was opened, which is the book of life. The dead were judged according to what they had done as recorded in the books” (Revelation 20:11-12).

No one will escape the judgment. You won’t be able to hide. Or run away. Or get lost in the crowd.

#4 We can face death eagerly when we belong to Christ. One writer expressed it well, “Death is nothing to fear, but it is something to prepare for.”

Indeed, “God has not given us a spirit of fear, but of power and of love and of a sound mind” (2 Timothy 1:7). The Hebrew writer reminds us that Jesus’ victory over death and the devil provides for us confident assurance and eternal hope as we face death. Yes, we are “more than conquerors through him who loved us” (Romans 8:37).

For those “in Christ,” we enjoy all spiritual blessings in this life and can look forward to our death as an occasion of everlasting salvation.

When we live in the light of eternity, death becomes our friend, not our enemy.

Every night when you go to bed,
turn all your worries over to God.
After all, He’s going to be up all night anyway!

The Christian Graces

II Peter 1:1-11

Hypocrites In The Church

When people say they don’t come to church because of all the hypocrites there, we should nod in agreement and reply: “You are exactly right; there are hypocrites in the church. There are also hypocrites outside the church. In fact, there are only two kinds of hypocrites – those who go to church and those who don’t. What kind do you want to be?”

If Jesus Came To Your House

(Author Unknown)

If Jesus came to your house to spend a day or two,
If He should show up unannounced
I wonder what you’d do?

Would you have to change your clothes before you let Him in,
Or hide some books and put the Bible where they’d been?

Would you be glad to have Him
meet your very closest friends,
Or would you hope they stay away
until His visit ends?

Would you be glad to have Him
stay forever on and on,
Or would you sigh with great relief
when He at last was gone?

It might be interesting to know the things that you would do,
If Jesus came in person to spend
some time with you.

The Bible Is The Mind Of God (Author Unknown)

This Book is the mind of God,
the state of man, the way of salvation, the doom of sinners, and the happiness of believers. Its doctrines are holy; its precepts are binding; its histories are true, and its decisions are immutable.

Read it to be wise, believe it to be safe, practice it to be holy. It contains light to direct you, food to support you, and comfort to cheer
you. It is the traveler's map, the pilgrim's staff, the pilot's compass,
the soldier's sword, and the Christian's character. Here paradise is restored, heaven opened, and
the gates of hell disclosed.

Christ is its grand subject, our good its design, and the glory of God its end. It should fill the memory, rule the heart, and guide
the feet. Read it slowly, frequently, prayerfully. It is a mine of wealth, a
paradise of glory,
and a river of
pleasure.

Follow its precepts and it will lead you to Calvary, to the empty tomb, to a resurrected life in Christ; yes, to glory itself, for eternity.
