THE CONYERS BEACON

“Therefore, all things whatsoever you would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.”

Matthew 7:12

Signs from God Yield

One of the most abused road signs is the "Yield" sign. This can be for a variety of reasons. For example, if a bridge over an interstate allows entry and exit to the interstate, clearly marked lanes should make this an easy proposition. Add traffic lights to regulate turns, and even more ease of movement should be expected. The problem comes in when many motorists come to this bridge at the same time. One lane clearly marked for left turns backs up an unusually long line, Apparently unanticipated by the roadway designers.

The motorists caught in this situation become impatient. Some leave the line and drive up the open lane near the front and use a turn signal to "Part the Red Sea" and get ahead of others. Then another problem creeps up. Motorists who have waited in the line, see what the impatient driver has done. They do not let this person in regardless of the turn signal. Now another lane gets backed up and more people become impatient.

Suddenly the traffic signal allows the left turn traffic to gain access to the entrance ramp but instead of one lane turning there is now two lanes turning left. The complications continue as right turning traffic on the other side tries to merge and some drivers race to get ahead of others ignoring the right turn "Yield" sign. Soon the traffic builds and cars find themselves stuck unexpectedly in the midst of the intersection as the light changes again. Now they have violated the "Do Not Block Intersection" sign. No one is moving smoothly none the less quickly.

Motorists are growing more impatient and then one wrong guess over which driver will take the opening and an accident happens. The result: more frustration, more time lost, more vehicle abuse and damage, more cost added to insurance, more aggression for the next day as the same drivers meet. Instead of correcting the issue by following the traffic signs, so many would protest to local law makers to make more traffic rules. This is now creating an expectation of enforcement. With all these traffic rules in place which is the most important?

Violators now employ attorneys to argue cases in court. The people who think we are so smart find that we, with the best intentions complicate. Then there are those who take advantage of this situation for their own gain. Oddly enough selfish people have sought gain from exploitation throughout history.

Would you believe that in 2016, God gave us the answer to traffic problems over 2000 years ago?

God gave us a traffic sign. Like the red-stripped triangle at many intersections, God's traffic sign, too, is often abused and neglected. God's sign also reads, "Yield". God gives us even more to consider.

Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets. Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat: Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it. (Matthew 7:12-14)

Then one of them, which was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying, Master, which is the great commandment in the law? Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets. (Matthew 22:35-40)

Can you imagine the world we would live in if everyone started practicing that which we often call the "Golden Rule"? What if the social norm was to "Extend unto others great patience and love for this is what you would prefer others do to you." What if it were so socially unacceptable to behave in a selfish manner that few would even dare. Could you imagine this world? It is possible. It begins with one's self. No longer blaming or comparing with others. No longer looking for others to meet our expectations. Now we look to God and align our behavior with His expectations. This is the "Yield" sign that can save the world. As Theodore Monod concluded his famous hymn we should consider, "None of self and all of Thee". Yield to God.
