News

Hank Wilson

Hank Wilson suffered a minor heart attack on Thursday. He is at Mercy General in Sacramento. He is unable to have visitors due to COVID but can be reached at 916-732-9983. The doctors put in some stents, and he says he's feeling well and hopes to be sent home soon, perhaps today. Keep Hank in your prayers.

Greg Eckert

Greg found it necessary to resign from being a deacon for now but the elders want to thank him for his outstanding service to the church. He was active in helping us get things done in several areas, especially class teacher assignments and logistics. We appreciate his hard work.

The View

Remember that Richard Harvey is handling the weekly View, so be sure to get in touch with him if you have any announcements. And check out the View tonight or tomorrow for any updates to previous announcements.

Assemblies

Look for an update in the next few days on our response to the latest Covid issues and how it is affecting the church here.

“A Texas church member will rely on his Bible and prayer to deal with isolation at the International Space Station.”

The headline above is from an article in the Christian Chronicle a couple of weeks ago. Some of you know the Odoms, members of the church in Pinole, where Ernie Sprinkle preaches. We had the privilege of staying with them in 2016 while holding a meeting there. Michael is one of the elders.

While we were there, the Odoms told us about their son-in-law, Warren Glover, an astronaut who is one of four crew members of the SpaceX Crew Dragon's first operational flight, that launched last weekend. Glover is a faithful Christian who was featured in the article referred to above. The article details his faith and his plans for staying in touch with God during his journey. You can read it here: <https://christianchronicle.org/astronaut/>. (Thanks to Kenny Marrs for bringing the article to our attention. Remember than Ken Marrs preached in Pinole for 15 years, if I remember correctly).
