Comodoro Rivadavia, September 2, 2024

Dear brethren, I sincerely hope that as you receive this report you will all be well, delighting in the abundant blessings of our Father, Almighty God, and of His Son, our Savior and Redeemer, the Lord Jesus Christ.

I share with you a brief report of work and circumstances that have occurred:

Health: Thank God my family and I are fine. The brothers of Comodoro Rivadavia the same, only one sister who suffered a fairly strong flu that affected her for two weeks, but she is already improving.

In the local church we had the pleasant honor of the return of a brother who had retired years ago, Luis Figueroa, who has remained faithful for more than two months. Due to the weather we have had, snow, rain, strong winds, low temperatures we have not been able to go out to distribute to the public roads, but the weather will improve, here we are in spring, but it does not want to arrive and winter does not want to go away. On Sunday 8/29 it snowed at night, and an orange alert for snow is in force in the province.

- Church in Rawson: On Sunday the 22nd I went with my wife to visit the brothers of Rawson, to encourage them and strengthen them in faith, This small group is dealing with the health problem of one of the boys, Jorge Sosa, whom I reported on in the previous report. This brother must undergo dialysis 3 times a week and chemotherapy twice a week due to bone marrow cancer. The brother, although emotionally tries to be well, his mood is variable due to the treatments he is undergoing. I pray that you continue to pray for the health of this brother.

I have uploaded two videos to YouTube, I leave you a link in case you want to see it.

I say goodbye but not before expressing my My deep thanks for your constant support, love, and prayers.

I thank from the bottom of my heart each church and brethren whose financial support makes it possible for me to continue to spread the message of the gospel of Christ and to support my family. It is my desire that the Lord will bless you extensively in everything.

Express my fraternal greetings to each of the saints from whom you congregate, as they gather to worship the Lord.

With gratitude and appreciation, his brother in Christ Alejandro Correa says goodbye ■
