12 After the Spirit sent him out into the wilderness, he preached for many days.

Jesus Announces the Good News

13 After Jesus was put in prison, Jesus went into Galilee, preaching in the synagogues and saying, "The time has come," he said, "and the kingdom of God is near. Repent and believe the good news!"

Jesus Calls His First Disciples

14 As Jesus walked beside the Sea of Galilee, a large crowd of people was following him, because they had heard of the miracles he had done for the sick.

15 One day he went up on a hill and sat down, and a large crowd gathered around him. He began to teach them, saying, "Blessed are you who are poor, for the kingdom of God is yours. Blessed are you who are hungry now, for you will be filled. Blessed are you who weep now, for you will laugh. Blessed are you who are hated and reviled now, for the name of the Son of Man will be pronounced over you. Blessed are you who are persecuted because of me, for the kingdom of heaven is yours. Those who persecute and slander you because of the Son of Man will be persecuted and slandered in the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are you who do not despise me now, for you will be with me, and I will send you to evangelize to all nations. Amen."

Paul Preaches in Corinth

19 After this, Paul came to Corinth, where he met with Aquila and Priscilla. They had come from Italy, where they had met with Apollonius, a Jew who was teaching them the way of God accurately, but he was not recognizing Jesus Christ.

20 Paul invited Aquila and Priscilla to help him in his work, and they agreed. So they went on with Paul in his work, as well as Gaius, Titus Justus, and Erastus, the city treasurer. They met together in the house of Titus Justus, who was a worshiper of God.

21 Paul preached there for 18 months and three winters. Many of the Jews were turned to Christ, also.
