

Jonathan Thrasher's List of References for Spring 2018 Apologetic Class

The following is a list of some of the resources I have used for preparing this class. It is not exhaustive, particularly in regards to the second half of the class where I went back to original sources that are referenced in the class texts. These have been provided to support what I have covered in class and also so you can do your own research. Please note that we must be very cautious in our use of resources, both those of Christians and non-Christians alike.
