Reading & Devotional Guide

The purpose of this reading plan is to encourage slow and reflective reading. It's designed to move slowly so you can meditate carefully about what you're reading throughout each day of the week. Following are some suggestions to make the most of it.

For each week, read the selected chapter once per day. To help your reading be more meaningful and avoid being repetitive, look for something different in each reading.

Sunday - just read the text

Monday - something you learn about Jesus or the gospel

Tuesday - something you don't understand or want to learn more about

Wednesday - something that connects to Luke's themes (see below)

Thursday - something from the Old Testament (a quotation, prophecy, shadow)

Friday - something you need to pray about and change in your life

Saturday - something you can share with others

If you like, keep a journal or a note-taking app nearby for keeping track of what you're learning and applying. And remember, if you fall behind don't give up altogether - give yourself grace and just pick up where you need to be!
